BURGLARS MAKE RICH CLEAN UP

WORTHINGTON HOME ROBBED SATURDAY OF MUCH JEWELRY

(International News Service.)
R. A. Worthington, 111 Halifax Avenue, Seabreeze.
L. Willard Jaycox, First Avenue and Peninsula Drive, Daytona Beach.
H. F. Cliff, First Avenue, Daytona Beach.
TIME OF ROBBERIES
Between 6:30 and 11 o'clock Saturday evening.
THE HAUL
Seven watches, a dozen expensive rings, and jewelry of every description.

On Saturday evening a gang of burglars made the richest haul of jewelry in the robbery of three peninsula homes, that has been suffered so far this season, the greatest loss being suffered by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Worthington, Springfield, O., and 111 Halifax Avenue, Seabreeze, where a large amount of jewelry of every description was taken during their absence at the Auditorium during the evening. Apparently the same gang entered all three homes, the two homes of Cliff and Jaycox being within one block.

The loss of jewelry in the Worthington robbery, it is estimated, will reach $1500, the haul including practically every piece of jewelry in the home, of which there was considerable.

An inventory of articles stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Worthington as given to the police following the discovery of the robbery follows:

A gentleman's open face gold Swiss watch, a silver wrist watch with khaki strap, silver finger watch, small gold Swiss watch, diamond bracelet with purple pearls on a slender gold chain, a black silk tie with gold trimmings, gold dress suit studs, and second set of pearl links, a gold Shrinette button, a platinum stick pin with pearls and diamonds, a Lapalazera stick pin, a small stick pin with pearls, gold dress suit chain, with gold pen, narrow gold bracelet, silver bracelet with Rhinestones surrounding, a heart-shaped amethyst breast pin, surrounded by pearls, solid pearl pin with small diamonds in center, an expensive lavallier, a 2-carat solitaire diamond ring with platinum setting, a plain gold ring, another gold ring with small diamonds surrounding the ring, gold ring with pearls around the entire ring, string of coral beads and gold locket.

No trace of the burglars had been obtained this morning, although the officers were working on the case, and it is probable that county officials will be brought in the case, in an effort to run down the gang, which, it is believed, is the same gang which has committed many burglaries here the past week.

Jaycox's Robbed
The home of L. Willard Jaycox, 1st Avenue and Peninsula Drive was also entered Saturday evening, apparently about the time of the Worthington robbery, where two gold watches, two stick pins and two gold rings were taken.

The two robberies evidently followed shortly after the home of H. F. Cliff of the Daytona Laundry, on First Avenue, Daytona Beach, was entered, where a wrist watch and several articles of jewelry were taken.

(International News Service.)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—After a dramatic and sensational hunt, Mrs. Gladys Witherill, kidnapped from her home in Hollywood Thursday, was found safe and unharmed this morning in a lonely canyon about 50 miles away. A large armed posse of deputies, police and private detectives surrounded the cabin, crashed through the doors and windows, surprising the inmates.

The woman, found in an inner room was overjoyed when rescued. Her husband was called on the long distance phone last night by a man demanding $20,000 and threatening the death of his wife. The telephone call was traced, resulting in locating the cabin and effecting a rescue. Two men on guard were detained and arrested.

VICTOR L. BERGER, OTHER SOCIALISTS MAY BE RE-HEARD

(United Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee and other Socialist leaders won a victory today when the supreme court held that Judge Landis, who tried and sentenced them to 20 years imprisonment in violation of the espionage act was disqualified as a trial judge because of statements he made in pronouncing the sentence. It is alleged that the Landis statement showed prejudice. As a result of the court's decision it is probable the Landis decision will be reversed and a new trial ordered.

Court Divided.
(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The conviction of Victor L. Berger, and four other members of the Socialist party, for violation of the espionage act was reversed today by the Supreme Court on the ground that Judge Landis should not have heard the suit after his eligibility had been attacked. Those convicted with Berger were Adolph Germer, national secretary of the party; William F. Kruse, editor of the Young Socialists' magazine; J. Louis Engdahl and Irwin St. John Tucker.

Berger and four other Socialists were sentenced to terms ranging from ten to twenty years. The court was divided six to three on the decision.

ALLEN CASE POSTPONED TO TUESDAY

LENA HAMES SAID HAVE RECOGNIZED ALLEN IN COURT

Because of the failure of several witnesses to reach DeLand this morning, the case against Geo. W. Allen, of Daytona, in which he is charged with aiding and abetting in the killing of Grady Hames at Daytona Beach, Sunday evening, Dec. 26, was postponed to 10 a. m. Tuesday.

It was said that Lena Hames this morning pointed out Allen as one of the party who assisted in the kidnapping of her father, and implicated in the killing of her brother at the Ohio House the night after Christmas.

It was announced that, on account of illness, the father of the dead boy, Arthur Hames, is detained in Atlanta, failing to appear at the hearing today, where Lena Hames was the only member of the family in attendance.

Allen, a sign painter of Daytona, was pointed out by Lena Hames sometime ago, as one of the assailants of her father and brother, and on her recognition was later arrested and held until the hearing today.

The girl was brought from her home in Marietta, Ga., by the sheriff, to testify in the case, and will be the chief witness against the defense at the hearing before Judge J. Lee McCrory in the court room at DeLand Tuesday.

HARDING WILL OUST 200,000 DEMOCRATS SOON AFTER MARCH 4

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—More than 200,000 jobholders on Uncle Sam's payroll will lose their jobs March 4 or soon thereafter.

Republicans insist they don't care anything about spoils. They say about 400,000 jobs now in the classified service—the "spoils" jobs—will remain unchanged.

But all the jobs that require any independent thinking or that pay attractive salaries—well, yes; they want them, and they mean to have them.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader in the senate explains it thus: "The new administration is entitled to have assistants of its own selection and who are in sympathy with its policy. President Wilson remains unconfirmed. Of these approximately 15,000 are appointments in the army, navy and marine corps, 2500 are of postmasters and the remainder in the diplomatic, consular, public health and other services.

Between 6000 and 7000 of the army navy and marine appointments probably will be confirmed before March 4. But confirmation will cover only original appointments, necessary to retain men in the service, and will not affect any officer hoping for promotion or preferment.

Many refused to take the settlement seriously, mingling jokes and sarcastic criticisms with their comment. MAKE HIM AMBASSADOR

For ambassador to England—or any other high diplomatic post—General Coxey.

Coxey believes in "open diplomacy" and practices it. Some of Coxey's brand of open diplomacy would help our diplomatic service.

Coxey was among the "best minds" who conferred with Harding shortly before the president-elect left for straw hat land.

Other "best minds" had arrived and departed in heavy silence.

Not Coxey.

He rushed over to his hotel and wrote a frank "piece" for the papers, telling what he said and what Warren said and all about it.

It was more news about "front porch" confabs than we have seen since Harding was elected.

Among other things, Coxey quoted Harding as follows:

On Hoover—"That appointment has caused me more trouble than all the others combined. Great pressure has been brought to put him in and also not to put him in."

On Popular Referendum—"With my experience in legislation in Ohio and in the senate, I am not in favor of having the people vote on amendments or laws. Where they have voted the results have not been satisfactory."

Not satisfactory to whom, Warren?

A DOG ON TRIAL

Most lawyers smiled when they read the other day that Judge Evans of Winchester, Ky., had taken under advisement the case of Old King, a blooded fox hound, tried in Judge Evans' court on a charge of murdering sheep.

This is probably the first case in American jurisprudence in which an animal has been tried.

But it is not without European precedent.

The fens of a town in Avorgne, in France were granted a tract of land by a court in the fifteenth century where they would be free from the molestation of dogs and men in return they were to leave dogs and men alone elsewhere.

Then there is the classic rooster of Basle, tried in 1474 for the alleged beheading of an egg.

Rooster eggs were held to be the production of the devil, as they were supposed to be used chiefly in magical concoctions.

The court, accordingly, in sentencing the rooster and the egg to be burned at the stake, made a fine distinction.

It was as the child of the devil, not a mere rooster, that chancier was to suffer death.

Quibbling is as old as the law. Some decisions of modern courts give as good cause for a smile as this one of the medieval judge.

WEAKLY REPORT OF KLARENDON KORNER LIARS' KLUB

Jan. 29, 1921.

The superintendent of the fishing depot is Mr. Bass—well named. His last fish story was a most convincing one—we Bible readers of the K. K. L. K. are all familiar with the Bible account of Jonah and the whale. It has always been taken as a truthful statement, and no one as yet has been ever able to authoritatively contradict it, but now through the great latent knowledge—as well as memory of Mr. Bass, he succeeded, by his most wonderful speech, which he delivered to the klub in the evening while the Bible class was having its usual Sunday morning's work, that it was not true that the whale swallowed Jonah, but quite the reverse. It was Jonah who swallowed the whale. At this statement the klub arose as one man. All exclaimed, "Impossible! Impossible, Bro. Liar—no man could perform such a feat as this." To which Bro. Bass replied, with all the dignity and superhuman strength he could command, said: "Gentlemen, I know whereof I speak, I saw him do it." Nuff ced. We stand corrected.

"UNCLE GEORGE."

Farm Bureaus of Volusia County to Be Consolidated

The farm bureaus of East and West Volusia county, together with the three Chambers of Commerce and one Board of Trade, of the county, will be consolidated in one county organization at a meeting called for Friday, Feb. 4, at DeLand, when the noted authority, Secretary Coverdell, of the National Farm Bureau, of Washington will be present to help perfect the organization.

While local councils of the farmers are organized so far as is possible a county organization of the whole is being undertaken by the farm bureau, joining the local councils and the Chambers of Commerce in that territory.

With splendid farm organizations in both East and West divisions of Volusia, it is hoped that a strong county body may be formed next Friday, with the Daytona, Palm Beach and DeLand Chambers of Commerce and New Smyrna Board of Trade.

In addition to Secretary Coverdell, Hon. L. M. Rhodes, commissioner of state marketing bureau, of Jacksonville, will also be present and will address the farmers and officials.

Enlightenment Is Given on Problems of the Pacific at Forum by Dr. I. T. Headland

Dr. Isaac T. Headland of Alliance, Ohio, but who spent 16 years as an instructor in the University of Pekin, China, speaking on "The Problems of the Pacific," a subject which most people as far away as this know as little about as most any other that could be named, delivered a most interesting and clarifying address at the Open Forum in the Auditorium on Sunday afternoon. It was full of facts and instruction for all those interested in the great international question that is now uppermost in the minds of all of the great national leaders of the world.

Before the lecture the audience was treated to a delightful jubilee concert by the members of the choir of the Daytona Industrial School. The program showed careful training and was thoroughly enjoyable. President Robert S. Holmes presided as usual.

At the close of the address many questions pertinent to the subject were asked by persons in the audience; and Dr. Headland, who is as familiar with all matters pertaining to the Orient as he is with his primer was ever ready with answers, full of information and satisfaction to the audience. In substance Dr. Headland spoke as follows:

"The problems of the Pacific must be grouped largely around Honolulu, Japan, China and the Philippines. There are said to be at the present time about 260,000 Japanese in the Sandwich Islands, a much larger number than all the rest of the population combined. One can easily see that in case of any trouble between the United States and Japan that this large number of Japanese in Honolulu and surroundings would be a great asset to her own people.

"It should be observed that the Japanese were under a military rule for 400 years, from 1200 to 1600 A. D. This was during the reign of the Shoguns, when the successive emperors were confined, as it were, prisoners in their own palaces. This long period of military rule would naturally contribute to the making of the Japanese into a military people. When we remember that during the war with Russia many a mother ordered her son to come home a victor or a corpse, reminding one of the old Spartan mother who ordered her son to come home with his shield or upon it.

"It is not too much to say that the Japanese of the present time are the same kind of a military people that the Germans were before the great war; with this exception, that the Japanese during the wars with China and Russia, delighted in distinguishing themselves by the most heroic feats of valor, such as the private soldier, who at Tientsin, rushed into the city gate which they had been trying to destroy with a charge of gun cotton, which he exploded, blowing himself and the gateway to atoms, thus opening the city wall for the entrance of the Japanese army. Or in the war with Russia, when a company in its effort to take a hill, its officer losing his life, the officer of the next rank promptly took his place, he having been killed, and then one after another of the officers having fallen, the company was finally led to victory by a corporal. So, that before the war closed there were large volumes published filled mostly with the heroic deeds of common soldiers.

"This will give you some idea of the heroic character of the Japanese people. "Following the 400 years of military rule the Japanese had 200 years of a spy system, during which it is said that not even two officials dared to meet together without the presence of a third party. Everybody was watched and it was this spy system of those 200 years that has made the intelligence system of the modern Japanese army. These are two things that must be taken into consideration in any estimate of the problems of the Pacific at the present time.

"Other problems connected with the Pacific may be enumerated as follows: "1. The problems of the Pacific coast of the United States. "2. The jolting of China out of her conservative policy of the past 2,000 years and the giving of her a desire for progress. "3. The change of her educational system. "4. The development of a railroad system. "5. The breaking down of superstition and the opening of mines. "6. The protection of China from the incursions of Europe. "7. The protection of China from the superstition of her own people—the Boxers. "8. The protection of China from the incursions of Japan. "9. The transportation of her own governmental system.

"We are often asked as to whether we would approve of the immigration of the people of the East—the Chinese, Japanese and Hindus in unlimited numbers, to our own Pacific coast, and my answer is without hesitation 'no.' We have one race problem in the United States and we never want another. We have not, and I do not know that we shall ever be able to settle the black and white race problem, and a white and yellow race problem would be infinitely worse. The yellow people are a highly civilized people, though, until they came in contact with the West, they were not progressive. Now they are progressing as rapidly as we are, and it is to be expected that they will continue to do so. They are patriotic to their own government, but they cannot be made into good American citizens, and the best principle, as it seems to me, is, Asia for the Asiatics.

"The jolting of China out of her policy of conservatism was brought about by a very simple incident, among a great many other things, viz., the sending of a New Testament into the palace by the English, American and Chinese women, as a present to the great empress dowager. This started the emperor, Kuang Hsu, to studying foreign books, which he kept up for three years' time, and which enabled him to understand the weakness of China, the strength of western powers, and the only hope of his own people, that of a thorough reform. He began as a child with foreign toys. As a boy he played with railroads, steam launches, telegraph, telephone, electric lights, phonographs, moving pictures machines, and he fell in love with everything that was foreign.

"After studying foreign books for three years he began the issuing of the most remarkable lot of edicts that have ever been sent forth from any throne in the same length of time, and it was he that really jolted China loose from her policy of conservative government and tied them up to a policy of progress. When the history of China is written the great reform of the past quarter of a century will have to be accredited to Kuang Hsu.

"Among his first great edicts was one to establish a university in Peking and a college in the capital of each of the provinces. Thirty years ago China had but one school in which she taught foreign learning. She had an educational system of her own which she had spent 1,500 years in developing, the basis of which was Confucianism, her highest system of moral worship. As a result of this edict of Kuang Hsu, she began the introduction of western science into her old Confucian system, then finding that this new wine could not be put into her old bottles, she discarded this old system of 1,500 years standing and started a new system based upon that introduced into China by the American missionaries, and she has already opened more than 40,000 schools, colleges and universities to teach our American system of learning. This is the beginning of the solution of one of China's greatest problems.

"A second great edict was to establish a board of railroads. Thirty years ago there was less than 500 miles of railroad in all China. As a result of this second edict, China has built more railroads than Japan has built since the beginning of her progress. We say this not to institute comparison, but because there are so many who think that China moves slowly and Japan rapidly. Over 6,500 miles are completed, 2,000 more nearing completion, and Yuan Shih Kai ordered Sun Yat-sen to draw up a plan for 75,000 miles more of railroads, an indication of the large plans that the first president of the new republic had for the development of the old empire.

"But this brings up another of China's problems, the problem of furnishing food for her starving millions. There are two causes of famine in China—the one is drought, the other the overflowing of her rivers, especially the Yellow river, which is called China's Sorrow. It is not that she cannot supply food or buy food, but it is that when drought or flood comes it is well nigh impossible to transport food from the far south to the far north. We in this country cannot understand what famine means there. When people begin to sift the grass seed from the dust, grind it, and then mix it with pulverized grasshoppers and bark of trees to make cakes we can then begin to understand from observation what famine is like. But even then we cannot comprehend it. The difference between seeing it and being in it, is the difference of being on a wrecked vessel and watching it from the shore. The solution of this problem remains for the future.

"A third great edict of Kuang Hsu was the appointment of a board of mines. I have seen old, blind women sitting in the middle of the cornfield in midwinter, feeling about them to get a few weeds or cornstalks to light a fire under their brick bed and cook their morsel of food. I have seen old women raking the grass and weeds from the mountain side to get fuel, and one of the things that made more impression upon me than anything else after I went to China was this uttered by my friend, Gamewell, who fortified the British Legation during the Boxer siege: 'If the Chinese only had the grass and weeds that fall down and rot in America they would have enough fuel to keep them warm.' But now just beneath where those old women were raking grass and weeds in the siege of the legations in Peking the earth great shafts, and they are taking out over 15,000,000 tons of coal each year, but like the small boy's leaves and fishes, what is that among so many, and especially when they have no money to buy it?"

Michigan Leads in Registration at Beach Office

Many are taking advantage of the convenience of the Tourist Club headquarters in the Dixie hotel. Every day Mrs. A. M. Griffiths, the secretary, is sought for all kinds of information. As yet only a few of the Pennsylvania tourists have registered. There is no reason why this great state should not have one of the strongest organizations in the Triple Cities. Other states are also lagging in their registrations.

There will be another card party in the Dixie hotel lobby Monday evening, given by the same tourists that have been having such parties in the Casino Burgeyne on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Michigan now leads in registration with 174; Kentucky is next with 97; Ohio, 90; Illinois, 79; New York, 89; Indiana, 59; Pennsylvania, 48; Massachusetts, 43; Vermont, 23; Georgia, 18; New Jersey, 17; Iowa, 11. Other states follow with from one from one from Texas up to ten.

rope for a $300,000,000 indemnity proposition, our share being $24,000,000. When we had used $11,000,000 we had paid all our indemnity debts and we had $13,000,000 of graft on poor old China. When Mr. Roosevelt discovered this fact he suggested to Congress, our Congress voted and Mr. Root sent a letter saying America retained nearly $13,000,000 of the indemnity to China.

"Third, when Russia and Japan had finished their war in Manchuria they settled down and it looked very much as if they would take Manchuria, because they had railroad interests there. Europe dared not object because every chance they had gotten to take a slice they had taken it. When Japan and Russia got their chance the mouths of the others are closed. At this time the secretary of state of the United States, Philander C. Knox, sent a circular letter around to the legations in Washington saying America felt that the railroads of Manchuria should be turned over to China and allow her to control the railroads in her own territory. All other countries agreed except Russia and Japan. And the world sneered and said Mr. Knox could not do what Mr. Hay did. Mr. Knox now induced China to borrow $50,000,000 from Germany, France, England and America and give the customs receipts of Manchuria to these four countries, knowing they would see to it that Japan and Russia would not take Manchuria during the next 45 years, but the breaking out of the war in Europe prevented their carrying out this plan.

"It was this friendship on the part of the United States that led China to decide upon a republic. "The next problem of China is the encroachments of Japan. These are: "1. The taking of Formosa at the close of the Sino-Japanese war. "2. The taking of Corea. "3. The taking of Southern Manchuria. "4. The encroachments on Eastern Mongolia. "5. The sending of her troops to Siberia. "6. The taking of Shantung, the most sacred province in China. The province containing the graves of both Confucius and Mencius, the Christ and the Paul of Confucianism. Shantung means East of the Mountains—as this province lies between the mountains and the sea, all railroads passing from north to south must go through it. If China had trouble in the north and troops in the north, or vice versa, she could not get her troops to her trouble without the consent of Japan, a very serious condition for any country. I do not hesitate to say that if I had been in the Senate I would never have voted for a League of Nations that began its work by giving the most sacred eighteenth of China to her worst enemy, Japan."

BEVERLY, Mass., Jan. 31—Alice Peck, Mary Monogue and Nellie Bronson, teachers at the McKay street school, Beverly, were so cold that they fainted.

The girl pupils cried from the cold and the tear drops froze on their cheeks. There is plenty of coal and Superintendent Chase is going to investigate the reason why it is so cold in the rooms. The children were sent home.

The Palmetto club meeting on Monday of this week gives promise of being one of the most enjoyable and successful of the season. Mrs. Frank M. Chapman of New York is the principal speaker. The subject of her address is "South American Women." Chapman who is the wife of Frank M. She has traveled over the world many times with her husband, spending considerable time in the South American countries where she has come to a most intimate knowledge of the women of those countries. GOT THEIR DRINK LONDON, Jan. 29.—During seasons of festivities at the R. A. F. station, Mount Batten, five Americans were taken from a yacht and held for ransom.

They were not aware of the ransom which was being demanded at the time without authority and tendered because they were from dry areas. They weren't caught.

Syrian Princess Greeted With a Crowded House

The auditorium of the First Baptist church was packed to its capacity and many were turned away yesterday morning, when Princess Rahme Haider, noted Syrian lecturer and portrayer of Oriental life, presented her thrilling message "Under Syrian Skies." Perhaps never before have the manners, customs and people of that historic country been so vividly portrayed before a Daytona audience. Princess Rahme, garbed in her royal robes, painted a graphic picture of Palestine, correcting numerous false impressions that have been current as to the Syria of today. She gave a comprehensive survey of her native home, dwelling upon its scenery, climate, productivity and people, making a vast distinction between the Turks and Ishmaelites and her own people, the pure Semites.

Princess Haider has a glowing and charming personality, a clear and logical mind, a memory well filled with historical facts and a heart filled with overflowing with her subject. Especially did she dwell upon the beauty and grandeur of Mt. Lebanon from the top of this mountain the entire land of Palestine may be seen. Tonight at 8 o'clock at the same auditorium, Princess Rahme assisted by her companion, will present her own drama of "Naaman, the Leper," given in scenes of costumes. This promises to be a rare treat and no doubt the church will be packed to overflowing again tonight. Miss Burgess will interpret the native music and preceding the drama the princess will tell "What a title means in Palestine why she is a princess."

Canadians Express Great Pleasure in Delights of Beach

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rodman of Alberta, Can., were visitors in the Triple Cities during the past week. They were en route to Fort Meyers, where they will spend some time and later they will spend some time at Key West and to Cuba. Most of their time here was spent in Daytona, but Friday they were at the beach and in Seabreeze. In the latter place they especially desired to visit the two big hotels of which they had heard—the Hotel Clarendon and the Princess Isena. They were 1,300 miles from their home and Mr. Rodman said:

"I hear them down here call you people from the northern states 'snowbirds.' They certainly must consider us Esquimaux."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodman is located near "Buffalo Park," where there are now 5,000 of these wonderful animals that are so rapidly becoming extinct. Mr. Rodman says that the buffalo have been shipped from Pueblo and that the government gives them every possible care and protection. This park is one of the wonder places of the great Northwest and is visited every year by thousands of tourists.

The agricultural possibilities of Alberta and that part of the Dominion of Canada are almost unlimited. Every year hundreds of American citizens are locating on lands there, and every possible encouragement is given to them by both the Canadian government and the Canadian Pacific Railroad company.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodman were both delighted with the beauty and the many attractions of the Triple Cities and marveled at the wonderful beach, as do all travelers who see it for the first time.

Clock Golf Course at Despland Now Center of Interest

At the Despland the big event last week was the clock golf tournament which was played Saturday morning. This contest has been eagerly looked forward to by the guests, and there were many spectators, including nearly every person who is located in the hotel and many of their friends from the city.

Mrs. James McDaniel was the winner of the prize for the women players.

The gentlemen played a very hotly contested game and the winner, Mr. Taylor, was obliged to play off a tie score with Mr. Russell. The prizes were contributed by Mrs. Robert Beattie, who is one of the popular season guests and whose summer home is in New Jersey, near Patterson.

Others to enjoy the contest as participants were:

F. H. Morrison, W. C. Brigg, T. E. Duncan, Mrs. L. J. Waite, Mrs. E. W. Leader, Mrs. W. E. Taylor, Miss Doris Brien, Mrs. C. A. Fay and W. T. Easton.

All the players are enthusiastically fond of the game, and this is only a forerunner of other pleasant contests that will occur during the winter.

The cult is noted for its scientific farming and large families. The average number of children in a family is 12.

And Cornelius Rample, who is coming to Alabama, has 27 children, all living.

Guests at the Prince George last week enjoyed some very lively tennis games in which many of them have taken part and which have been enjoyed by many spectators.

Miss Phyllis Brookfield of Nova Scotia, who with her father and uncle is spending the season at the Prince George, played two singles with William Wilson of Cleveland and won both games by a score of 7 to 5.

Mr. Wilson and D. J. Gillespie of High Falls, N. Y., played against Miss Wilson and Charles Ackland, the former of Cleveland and the latter of Washington, D. C., and won two out of three games by scores of 6 to 3 and 6 to 4.

There are some good athletes at the Prince George, and many of them are enjoying the fine tennis courts and as well the golf links.

W. H. Brookfield of Nova Scotia and his daughter, Miss Phyllis, spent Saturday morning on the Clarendon links in Seabreeze. Mr. Brookfield is one of the best players hereabouts and is giving his daughter some lessons, and she promises to also be an expert player.

Pool has also entered into the social plans of the Prince George this week, and among those who have been playing closely matched games are: J. E. McGee, Chris Foster, M. H. Nason, J. B. Barnes, W. W. Hilyard, Sr., George H. Cole and James Kelsey.

Mr. McGee came out with the greatest number of games to his credit, and at present holds the championship in Prince George circles.

"Stop Thief" With Tom Moore Tonight
At Seabreeze Show

You will be in danger of laughing your head off if you visit the Seabreeze Opera House tonight when Tom Moore will be seen in his new screen comedy, "Stop Thief," made from the enormously successful stage farce "Stop Thief." It is a hyena when it comes to fun and debonair Tom Moore is a bear as a laugh-getter. The combination forms a danger that everyone will want to court—laughing until there isn't another chuckle or even a smile left in one's system.

Jack Douglas, the party played by Mr. Moore, and "Snatcher" Nell, his sweetheart, are a pair of crooks that could steal the nose off a man's face without his knowing it. They are turned loose at a home wedding to plunder the wedding gifts at will. Having agreed that this shall be their last "haul" before getting married and treading the straight and narrow, they try to "hog" everything valuable in a series of screamingly hilarious scenes—the bride's father and bridegroom are kleptomaniacs, furnishing an alibi with a vengeance—but are caught in the end.

However, they plead their cause so effectively that the bluecoats are called off and they are married at the same time as the two daughters of the house. And at that, Douglas is obliged to steal a wedding ring!

Alice Lake Tuesday
Jack Muthall, who, with Alice Lake and Frank Currier, heads the exceptionally gifted cast of "Should a Woman Tell?" the Screen Classics, Inc., all star special production showing at the Seabreeze Tuesday afternoon and evening began his career on the stage as a property boy in an uptown stock company theatre in Passaic, N. J.

Later he entered a West Side stock company in New York, deserting the stage in 1912 to study oil painting. From art students, he turned art model, and his clean-cut profile was the original of many magazine covers and collar ads.

His first role in motion pictures was in "The House of Discord," featuring Blanche Sweet, Lionel Barrymore, Dorothy Gish and Marshall Neilan. With Universal he starred in five productions including "Madame Cypri." He played with Louise Huff and Theodore Roberts in the Paramount production, "Wild Youth," with Pauline Stark and Katherine Adams in "Whom the Gods Will Destroy," with Heien Chadwick in "The Solitary Sin," and with Olive Thomas in "The Split Bride."
